All women interested in the work of the Exchange and the success of the enterprise, are cordially invited to attend these demonstrations and luncheons and earnestly requested to co-operate in making the undertaking a success. The Demonstration takes place daily from 10:30 to 12 o'clock in the morning, when four cooks, by appointment, will be instructed; arrangements for which instructions must be made on the day previous with the superintendent of the Exchange. All are cordially invited to attend these demonstrations daily.

The Southern Cotton Oil Company has donated as many eight-ounce cans of Wesson Snowdrift Oil as the committee can dispose of at 10c each. All of the receipts from the sale of these luncheons, tea and oil will be retained by the Exchange for their work.

Wesson Snowdrift Oil

For Cooking and Salads

Wesson Snowdrift Oil is an absolutely pure, purely vegetable product. It takes the place perfectly of butter and lard for cooking purposes, and of olive oil for salad making; is unexcelled for Hollandaise and all other kinds of white sauces. It is much less expensive, it is tasteless and odorless; free from animal fats. Refined by the exclusive Wesson process. Regarded by experts as the best culinary oil on the market.

Mrs. W. H. Daniel, of Savannah, will be in charge of the demonstration, at the head of one of the most successful and expert crews of cooking demonstrators in the United States, on behalf of The Southern Cotton Oil Company. Mrs. Daniel will demonstrate that Wesson Snowdrift Oil cooks food thoroughly without penetrating, eliminating from a digestive point of view the principal objection to fried foods. Notice of the special dishes to be demonstrated will be given through the papers in advance.

This is an exceptional opportunity to learn the value of a food product destined to take first rank in culinary science. All questions will be cheerfully answered; the demonstration is open to the public in general. Membership in the Exange is not necessary.
